

Leveraging an on-demand staffing solution in 5 easy steps

Digital staffing: The future of work

Is your agency embracing digital transformation to keep up with the gig economy? Workers are. In fact, 9.2 million Americans are expected to work in the gig economy by 2021 and your clients are seeing the benefits. Now, the ability to augment staff with gig workers is shaping the way employers fill their shifts. Implementing an on-demand staffing solution can help agencies like yours capitalize on this trend.

Your agency: Powered by Shiftgig

Deploy by Shiftgig is a software platform centered around an easy-to-use mobile app for your clients and workers. Deploy helps your agency retain, optimize, and redeploy your workforce by putting choice and flexibility in their hands and by giving your clients real-time insight into their orders. It's simple:

1. Place a work order

Enter a shift description, number of workers needed, and number of days. Your clients also have the option to do this through self-service.

2. Fill Client Shifts

Your agency's pre-vetted workers browse and claim your clients' available shifts that match their skills.

3. View the status

On the day of the job, keep track of what's happening by viewing your roster, communicating with workers, and viewing the outcome of each shift. See tracked time with our mobile time card.

4. Give and get feedback

Once the work is complete, clients and workers rate their experience. Clients can also provide feedback to keep their favorite workers coming back!

5. Optimize and redeploy

Save time by optimizing the search for workers. Your agency is able to curate a pool of talent that you can redeploy when you have shifts to fill that fit their schedules.
